

DANCE

Adjudicator: Deborah Ward

Upon graduating from Elmhurst Ballet School, Deborah Ward continued her academic studies, gaining a BA Hons Communication Studies - Dance from the University of Leeds, and an MA in Dance Studies at De Montfort University before receiving a scholarship to pursue her contemporary dance training at the Jose Limón Institute in New York. Debbie is currently a doctoral candidate at The Royal Conservatoire of Scotland and is researching contemporary narrative ballet works through a feminist narratological lens.

As a choreographer Deborah has presented works internationally in both educational and professional settings in Contemporary, Ballet and Musical Theatre genres. She founded Ballet Folk in 2019, to share her creative work, which has a narrative focus and is embedded in folk traditions and music from the British Isles.

As a dance educator Deborah has taught internationally at conservatoires in Taiwan, Slovakia, Lithuania and America. With a focus on Contemporary Ballet and Limón-based technique and choreographic practices, she has taught across the UK for undergraduate and postgraduate programmes and as a lecturer at HE institutions and vocational conservatoires.

Deborah is a committee member for Dance HE, a Fellow of Higher Education Academy, an All England Dance adjudicator and Vice Chair and adjudicator for the British and International Federation of Festivals.

Joining the Federation as a Dance adjudicator in 2009 Deborah has been constantly inspired by the wealth of artistic talent seen at festivals on an international scale each year. At this uncertain time, Deborah believes, more than ever, that arts education, performance and creativity is a vital part of our human existence and that festivals offer a platform for performing artists to develop their artistic self.

Deborah was elected onto the Board of Trustees eight years ago and since then has been privileged to work alongside Steven Roberts and the members of the Board to support the vision and direction of the Federation.
